MUST HAVE

Libertà e indipendenza sono alla base del sandalo Riviere di Miu Miu. Forma semplice, cordini nautici e un bel rosso marinaro per un cult che riassume in pochi tratti l'essenza dell'estate. FOTO MATTIA IOTTI

Protagonista della sfilata P/E 2024 di Miu Miu, l'infradito Riviere, con suola in pelle e battistrada con stelle, è un hot item dalla vocazione sportiva e giocosa. Disponibile in vari colori, si adatta a ogni look grazie a un design minimalista e alla corda, che gli conferisce un'attitudine on the go.

amazing and you're probably gonna be sad in a bathtub.'

KD And you were! [Laughs].

CS [Laughs] And I was! It was the complete opposite experience. But it was so cool to have shot a whole movie with you having grown up watching a lot of your work, but particularly your work with Sofia. I must have been, you know, 14 or 15 when I had seen those films, and something inside me, in my soul just clicked. The story she was telling and also the performance you were giving – I just went, 'Oh my god, this is it!'

KD And I'd never seen anything like that in my life as a young woman. I mean, even my best friend Molly, she's like, 'The Virgin Suicides is one of my favourite movies.' You're younger than us, but even at her age, there weren't any movies like that. [The Virgin Suicides] was like a Three Women of our time. I think it really speaks to the melancholy you feel when you're a teenager that you don't even know the word for yet.

CS Exactly! There weren't words to put to that feeling. Especially growing up in a sort of Bible-belt area, I think there were certain expectations for young girls even more so where I came from. Watching those films, it was like I was fully being given permission to be who I was. So, those films are so special to me and your performance in those films was like something I'd never seen before – how you could do so much with so little. I was growing up doing small town theatre and doing like Seussical the musical and it was my only outlet. I was so curious about the truth and subtleties of a film, but there was no outlet for me to explore that. And that was really when I decided 'This is what I'm curious about and trying to do.' That was really the floodgates opening inside me to then go, 'I need to find a way to get to Los Angeles.' It was really those films! I didn't ever feel like I got the chance to express that to you when we were on set because it was all just so hectic and we were filming.

KD I am so touched. I didn't know any of that. How did you even find those movies when you were there? Were they at the Art House theatre?

CS We didn't even have an Art House theatre. I was terrible at school, I ended up dropping out and basically what I would do is lock myself in my room and just find films. I stumbled across The Virgin Suicides and it was the first time I'd ever asked myself, 'Who's behind the camera?' I had pinned myself as 'I'm a Sofia Coppola girl', like that is my filmmaker, and then started watching her whole filmography of work. I mean it sounds like I'm putting it on but it was genuinely the key that opened the door for me.

KD Wow, I didn't know that Callee.

CS I know we were working so I didn't say any of this to you. But it was so strange to have this experience with you, just to get to work with you and to have that time together. I mean, every scene in Civil War we were with each other. I got to watch you act and take it all in. And then at the end of that experience, to then work with Sofia...

KD It's so witchy, so kismet.

CS So witchy!

KD But I also feel like when we're acting together, you do feel like you're riding on a different plane and that's what you always want to feel like when you're acting. That's kind of the goal, you want to feel like you're not acting. That's why I love it, you just want to get to that place.

CS Those are the nuggets of gold that are so rare to find.

KD Because of the technicalities of it.

CS I used to try to shove the technical things aside and not think we did season one so there's been a lot of downtime in between. It feels like everything's different and nothing is different at the same time. Maybe because everything's taken such a long time I've had the time to adjust. But it does feel like my life is completely different than it was just a few years ago which is cool, wild, scary, exhilarating and all of those things.

"I'M HIGHLY INTROVERTED. I LOVE BEING AT HOME, DOING NOTHING AND NOT TALKING TO ANYBODY"

GC That's so crazy. I have a one year break currently and I'm like, 'How am I going to jump back into this?' Do you see it as a challenge like, 'Man, it's going to be kind of fun and interesting to jump back into the character's shoes after this long?'

NR It's terrifying to be honest because a part of me is like, 'Do I know how to play this character anymore?' And also, 'Do I know how to act anymore?' I hear that all the time from actors that I admire. They're constantly like, 'I start every job asking myself, do I know how to be an actor anymore?' And so I don't think that feeling ever goes away. We'll see how it goes for season two. I have a feeling it'll fall into place, but it's going to be different. Characters evolve and that's the beauty of it.

GC Is there anything that's happened in your personal life that you've kind of been like, 'Man, I'm excited to bring this to Jackie's life,' at all?

NR Honestly, I think it's going to be my relationships with the other characters in the cast because she starts off in season one being very uncomfortable and blocking everybody and everything.

out. I think it's going to be really interesting to work past that and just see how her emotions evolve because she's a little bit closed off and kind of stoic. I think as she grows and time passes, she'll open up a little bit. I've never gone back and played a character again. What is that like for you? Because you did that [on The Summer I Turned Pretty]. Was it scary?

GC You know what's funny is that you're kind of speaking about the same things I have felt as well. As soon as you take a month's break, it can be kind of scary to jump back on the saddle, so to speak.

You say Jackie's kind of closed off but she's really growing in emotional maturity. Where do you see yourself in Jackie?

NR In so many ways, honestly. In that way, particularly, where she is avoiding her emotions a little. She's feeling all these things but doesn't want to deal with it at all. She loses her whole family so there's a lot of grief and tragedy there. She channels all of that into her type-A, go-getter personality, which is something that I do. I do tend to avoid feelings and then just try to channel that into how I can be productive, which probably isn't healthy, to be honest.

GC How do you find rest in your life when balancing such a busy schedule and crazy life changes?

NR I live two different lives. I'm either going 100 miles an hour and filling every minute of my day with everything I could possibly do. Or, I'm spending all day at home on the couch not moving. I'm highly introverted. I love being at home, doing nothing and not talking to anybody.

GC Well, being an introvert, have you had any interesting fan

What does it mean to wear a watch in the era of modern technology and smartphones? The answer: perfect harmony. While the digital age welcomes instant gratification, a wristwatch brings the poetry of time in a way no other gadget can. But there's a world in which the two can live together, and why it oughtn't be one without the other, while we typically view the digital sphere and outdoor craftsmanship of watchmaking as diverging spheres, embrace the unity of technology and artistry in a timeless device.
