Michelle Dockery, 36, looks radiant as she puts on a VERY animated display at Wimbledon

By LILY WADDELL FOR MAILONLINE PUBLISHED: 18:50 BST, 10 July 2018

She has stayed true to her image as the leading lady after walking in the stilettos of Lady Mary Crawley in BBC drama series Downton Abbey. And of course Michelle Dockery, 36, was a vision as she sat in the royal box on centre court at the All England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club, in Wimbledon on Tuesday. The Downton Abbey star looked beautiful with her layered locks tumbling down to her shoulders and framing her make-up enhanced features.

Hanging up her heels! The leading lady brought a dash of colour to her attire when she was seen leaving the grounds in her sky-blue heeled sandals

Carry essential style with Michelle's Prada mirage bag

Prada mirage medium leather bag Click here to buy

Michelle Dockery joined a host of other celebrities at Wimbledon today looking sharp and chic in her ensemble.

Working tailored trousers and a white shirt, the actress finished the look with powder blue heeled sandals, proving that adding a dash of colour to a monochrome outfit is a total fashionista tick.

However, it was her bag that had our eyes lighting up. The Prada mirage bag is one of the must-have carry ons for this season and reinvents the classic leather bag thanks to it's rectangular shape.

Update your look instantly with this essential staple and click (right) to buy it on the Prada website. Want to browse around first? Check out the carousel below as we've discovered an array of alternatives from Givenchy, Asos and our favourite at Zara.

Vanessa Kirby In Prada – ‘Mission: Impossible – Fallout’ Paris Premiere

Vanessa Kirby was looking as regal as ever on the red carpet for the world premiere of ‘Mission: Impossible – Fallout’ on Thursday (July 12) in Paris, France, alongside Angela Bassett and Rebecca Ferguson.

Her Prada vanilla and black gown featuring a cinched train was simply breath-taking.

There’s something about the design which is both classic and modern, which is very indicative of Vanessa’s red carpet style.

Some might be put off by the double layering of the bodice, but that element sells this look to me.

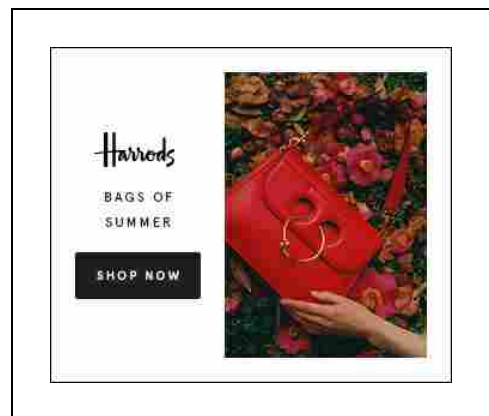

We’ve seen plenty of sweetheart neckline gowns, so I love this fresh take.

Hach, dieser Zweiteiler vom deutschen Label Belize hat es mir wahrlich angetan und für kein anderes Outfit erntete ich so viele Lobeshymnen. Beste Leihgabe während der Modewoche, sag' ich euch, und wie schade, dass sich das gute Stück schon fast wieder auf dem Rückweg befindet.

It's bye bye bun! How the Duchess of Sussex ditched her signature style for a sleek new ponytail at Prince Louis' christening

By SIOFRA BRENNAN FOR MAILONLINE PUBLISHED: 09:41 BST, 10 July

The Duchess of Sussex debuted a new look at Prince Louis' christening ceremony yesterday - a sleek ponytail. Slipping discreetly into the Chapel Royal at St James's Palace on her husband Prince Harry's arm, Meghan ensured all eyes were on the star of the show on Louis' big day, but fans were still quick to spot her new 'do, a departure from her trademark 'undone' bun.

Last night, the Duchess of Sussex wore her hair in defined curls tumbling over her shoulders for the Queen's Young Leaders Awards at Buckingham Palace

The Drip | A$AP Rocky Rocks Thrasher Sweats, a Prada Vest & Vans at WOO HAH! Festival

Full Text:

The Drip is Highsnobiety's latest series, taking a deep-dive look at celebrities and their jawnz. Every other day, we highlight a notable figure from our world and run the rule over whether their outfit is a hit or miss. Do you agree or disagree with our appraisal? Let us know below.

Who: A$AP Rocky

The outfit he's wearing: Rocky is sporting a Prada vest, Disco Inferno shirt, Thrasher sweatpants, and Vans Old Skool sneakers.

Location: WOO HAH! 2018

Why it works: A$AP Rocky is no stranger to blending streetwear with high fashion; an alchemy that's more difficult than it initially seems. This time around, the Harlem spitter opts to keep it comfy while on stage in a pair of affordable Thrasher sweatpants. But rather than going all-around chill with

Why 50/50 fashion is everywhere right now: three theories

Full Text:

We're living in the digital age. Instagram is now TV, emojis constitute emotion, and our thoughts are limited to 140 (now 280) character tweets. Playing one person online and another IRL, against a backdrop of miscellaneous global chaos, it's no surprise that we're a lil overwhelmed. But is this fractured identity starting to manifest in our clothes? Judging by the amount of fashion brands creating pieces which look like two different items spliced abruptly together (or what we're calling 50/50 fashion), then sure.

First appearing at Vetements (where most trends are born), Demna Gvasalia put out the now recognisable Antwerpen tee, spliced and restitched together to obscure the logo, way back in 2015. In fashion years, that may as well have been 1975 – but the deconstructed style was channeled in further hoodies and tees. As Demna dictated, others followed, with Marc Jacobs putting out a band tee version at his SS16 show. At Off-White, Virgil Abloh explored the idea for a few seasons, first splicing t-shirts at the back to create an uneven neckline, then for AW16, teaming up with Shane Gonzales to stitch together contrasting vintage

Accessorise like the A-list with a studded bag by Prada

£1780

Prada 'Etiquette' bag in white

Sold out in white but click to buy it at black at NET-A-PORTER

Gigi Hadid knows how to nail an effortlessly cool look.

The model was spotted out and about in New York and as ever she was stylishly put together, but nailed the 'I haven't tried too hard' vibe we all crave. In high waist jeans, white tee and colour pop pink jacket she's got summer in the city locked down.

And she was carrying her favourite bit of arm candy too. By Prada, this 'Etiquette' bag is ideal for adding a touch of luxe to an otherwise laid back ensemble. And we love the season appropriate white combined with the tough girl studding.

Sadly it has now sold out in this shade but click to the right to buy it in black at NET-A-PORTER. Or stick to white and bag one of the studded options in our edit below. Go high end with Valentino or we like Carvela's version at only £59.
