ACTION SANDALS

Hmmm. Black sandals. For those with a highly sensitive footwear radar, black sandals give off mixed signals. Black leather shoes, like those covered earlier in the Workplace section, are formal. The sandal is informal, and made for the outdoors. Strictly then it should be a brown shoe. But L'Uomo is nothing if not progressive. We must not let the weight of convention drag us to the bottom of the lake of expression and leave us gasping to air new footwear choices in these august pages. Hence the black sandal must be embraced. The Marni slingback is especially handsome in a traditional school shoe way. And the combination of latticed leather and sneaker sole in the Dolce&Gabbana example is kinda cool too. So step out this summer in a black sandal. You can even wear socks with them. Or maybe not? ■
