PRADA RE-NYLON SS21

When Prada debuted its Re-Nylon collection in 2019, it was a revelation for their bevy of ardent fans and casual admirers alike, bringing sustainability to Prada's iconic nylon accessories. This year, Prada has expanded the range to include ready-to-wear, turning the recycled nylon gabardine into jackets, pants, hats, and even shoes. That means you can sport the undeniably sleek and contemporary look from head to toe, starting with the ever-trendy bucket hat and ending with combat boots. While there's perpetual appeal in any Prada piece, the Re-Nylon collection epitomizes the new category of sustainable luxury. Charlie and Luca wear all clothing and accessories Prada Re-Nylon SS21 ($835-$2,290, all available at Prada.com)

"I've always tried to make men more gentle, that doesn't mean making them feminine because kindness has no gender. I imagined everyday heroes and a perspective on heroes who are not heroic but normal. I also worked on fabrics to define the shapes: this time I wanted elegance to be exaggerated and excessive in my way."
